FRENCH DRESSING An Evening of Violin Sonatas by French Composers

with

JACQUES ISRAELIEVITCH, VIOLIN
KANAE MATSUMOTO, PIANO

Saturday, May 22, 2010 @ 8pm
Gateway Christian Church
11760 Gateway Boulevard, Los Angeles, CA 90064

"Jacques Israelievitch's soloing was like sparks from the depths of a soul. At first they sounded like laments, but really, his little melodies spoke of trembling before the infinite."
The Globe and Mail

Born in Cannes, France and currently residing in Toronto, Canada, Jacques Israelievitch is recognized as one of the most distinguished performing artists in North America and abroad. He is joined by pianist Kanae Matsumoto, whose performance artistry was described as "unfailingly crisp, warm and sensitive" (showtimemagazine.ca).

They will present a program jointly titled "French Dressing," an evening of violin sonatas by French composers Debussy, Piere, Poulenc and Ravel. These exquisite pieces are influenced by French Impressionism and American jazz: full of colors, rhythm, and fun!

Tickets are $10 in advance and $15 at the door. For more information, visit

Gateway Performance Series (GPS) is an innovative concert program on the Westside of Los Angeles, founded by Rev. Dr. David McAllister and composer Dr. Alan Chan. It features five concerts this season with music ranging from Classical to experimental, as well as interdisciplinary collaborations between established and emerging artists. Our next concert will be titled "Courtney Huffman – An Evening of American Songs" on June 19. Complimenting the series is a photography exhibition – Gino Ng: Journal of Light – at the Gateway Gallery, which continues through May 31, 2010.
